

AFGE TSA COUNCIL 100

CBA NEGOTIATIONS

WEEKLY UPDATE

ISSUE 10

With a few weeks left to bargain, your bargaining team is hard at work, working long hours and additional days to make up for the limited amount of time granted to us under the Administrators Determination. However, in one of the most worker unfriendly Administrations since TSA's inception, your Union continues to fight through the suppression aimed at every employees' rights.

unorthodoxly. During its down time, Council 100 will be working with AFGE's Communications Department to produce some new videos featuring your current Council Officers and updates on recent and upcoming matters. We look forward to sharing these videos, upon completion, with you in the near future. Council 100 will be providing further correspondence in the near future.

As it stands, of the many issues TSA management and the Union have not agreed upon in the CBA, approximately 39% of the outstanding issues are deemed non-negotiable by TSA management. Of course, in many of those instances, the Union does not share the Agency's opinion of certain matters deemed non-negotiable.

During the next three weeks (which remain), the Union and Agency will be working diligently on these unresolved issues. If there are remaining outstanding issues not agreed upon, the Union will be addressing those matters appropriately—and quite possibly

On another note, we are simultaneously preparing for a potential Government Shutdown, which could take place as early as November 21, 2019, if an agreement is not reached between lawmakers. On November 21, 2019, AFGE TSA Council 100 will be hosting a nationwide conference call with AFGE TSA Local Leaders. Reach out to your Regional Vice President for more details.

We are approaching a very uncertain time in Federal employee history; and such an unprecedented time will require an unprecedented response from your Union . . . so stay tuned for more information on upcoming actions. As always, thank you for all you do for this country!
